This is Zecky. She lives on Planet Techy, where science and technology are planetary passions.

Zecky loves conducting science experiments and inventing things.

3

One day, while Zecky was fiddling with her latest invention, the device picked up a hostile signal headed straight for Planet Techy!

4

Zecky quickly traced the signal. It was coming from... Planet Gloop!

"What are the Gloopiens doing so far from home?" she wondered. She had a feeling that something wasn't right.

"I need to do research," she said to herself. "And there's only one place to go!"

5

In her underground laboratory, Zecky turned on her infiniTab and searched for Gloopien-related news.

She found an article on Gloop's recent weather troubles and began reading quickly.

6

"So that's why they're here. They need our technology!"

7

Zecky felt torn. She wanted Planet Techy to be safe, but she also understood that the Gloopiens needed help.

"Maybe... Planet Techy and Planet Gloop can work together!" she thought. Zecky scrambled for the tunnels.

8

Above ground, a ferocious Gloopien was terrorising Planet Techy!

"M-Mr Gloopien!" Zecky called out, waving her arms to get his attention. "Hey, Mr Gloopien, over here!"

9

The Gloopien turned his antennae towards her. "I think I know why you're here. Let me help you."

The Gloopien looked at her in disbelief, then seemed to deflate.

10

"The meteor storms have buried everything on our planet," he said sadly. "Can you do anything?"

Zecky beamed. "Of course! I have an idea. Come with me and we can work on it together."

11

Back in the lab, Zecky and the Gloopien tinkered and toiled, all day and all night.

Finally, after many rounds of trial and error, they finished their inventions: two pairs of super-spectacles.

12

Zecky switched out her old pair of glasses for the super-spectacles and pressed a button on the rim.

"Now you'll be able to see through the layers of debris. You can find everything that was buried by the meteor storm!"

13

"I can't wait to teach everyone back home how to make and use this. Thank you, Zecky!" The Gloopien hugged her.

"Come visit Planet Gloop when the storms are gone! We'll show you our Gloopien inventions!"

14

After watching the Gloopien zoom off into space, Zecky found the citizens of Planet Techy crowded around her.

"Did you really invent that pair of super-spectacles?" someone asked. "Will you teach us how to make it?" someone else called out.

15

"Of course I'll teach you," Zecky said proudly. "I'm going to put all my findings in a book. After all, knowledge is for sharing!" Zecky looked down to see an eager little Techian tugging on her arm.

"Zecky, can my Key-O-Matic designs be included in your book of inventions too?"

16

"I would love that! Maybe we can invite everyone else to share their ideas!"

Zecky was thrilled. Her mind was whirling. Who knows what other inventions await to be discovered?
