UNIT 1

TRADITIONAL TALES

Title: Grandpa's Remedy
Author: Jessie Wee
Call No.: J SING WEE

Lotus and her brother and sisters lived with their Grandpa, Grandma, parents, aunts, uncles and many cousins in a long, two-storied house with an attic, a spacious front porch and a garden by the gate.

The children have a tug-of-war with a python that is trying to get into the chicken coop. They have front-row seats at the wedding of an aunt who is one of the ugliest women they have ever seen. Each of them get a stinging cut of the cane for dirtying clean laundry in their war games. Grandpa somehow brings Toots the tortoise back to life.

Funny, exciting, frightening and even painful but never boring, these tales, drawn from the author's childhood memories are told with warmth and a keen sense of humour.

Title: The Alarming Career of Sir Richard Blackstone

Author: Lisa Doan

Call No.: J DOA

Twelve-year-old Henry Hewitt has been living by his wits on the streets of London, dodging his parents, who are determined to sell him as an apprentice. Searching for a way out of the city, Henry lands a position in Hampshire as an assistant to Sir Richard Blackstone, an aristocratic scientist who performs unorthodox experiments in his country manor. The manor house is comfortable, and the cook is delighted to feed Henry as much as he can eat. Sir Richard is also kind, and Henry knows he has finally found a place where he belongs.

But everything changes when one of Sir Richard's experiments accidentally transforms a normal-sized tarantula into a colossal beast that escapes and roams the neighborhood.
